Editor, The Western Globe:

Sir: May I with your usual kindness, be permitted to reply to Mr. Davidson.

Having studied, not merely read, Social Credit since Major Douglas was at Ottawa in 1923, I claim with all due modesty to know the subject at least fairly well, and, not knowing Mr. Davidson personally, I can only judge of his knowledge of the subject by his writings, and may I repeat now with more certainty since his last letter, that he is entirely ignorant of the matter, and I don't need any space in the Globe to prove it—his own writings do.

I am for Social Credit because it is the only alternative to Socialism, Communism or Fascism.

To pay dividends to the provinces needs no more sovereign powers than the banks now possess and use when making credit loans—in fact, it is content that the creation of credit should be left to the Dominion or provincial function, and it is only from the creation of credit that dividends can be paid. Social Credit is simply proved by the fact that what slight improvement has taken place in business is entirely due to an increase in dividends.

To conclude, I am quite willing to accept May, 1937, as the zero hour, with this proviso, that if dividends are not then being paid it is because of outside interference.

I thank you.

THOMAS F. ROBERTS.

Death of Popular Bentley Woman

BENTLEY.—The grim reaper, death, has again entered Bentley and last week removed from our midst Miss Jennie Young. She was the last remaining member of a family who for the past 18 years had been residents of the village.

She had apparently been in her usual health on Monday, having been down town and also having had dinner with friends. On Tuesday evening some friends, having found that none of her children were about during the day, went to her home and found her there. Although she was able to talk, she was somewhat delirious and they were unable to find just when she was stricken but it appeared it had been on Tuesday morning. Dr. Henry was called at once, and she was taken to the hospital and everything possible done for her, but she passed quietly away on Saturday, May 9.

Born in Minnesota.

Miss Young was born in Rendville Township, Minnesota, U.S.A., in September, 1868. Here she lived for 24 years, where she was taught school. In 1892, with her parents, she went to Ashland, Wis., where the family made their home until 1904, when they came to Alberta. Her father took up a homestead 10 miles southwest of Bentley, where they resided until 1916, when on account of failing health they took up residence in Bentley.

She was the eldest of a family of four children. Her youngest brother Frank died at the age of 22 years, suffering from the effects of services rendered his country during the Spanish American War. His death was followed in 1901 by that of her youngest sister, Mrs. McPherson, at the age of 33. Her eldest brother, Archie, had chosen the ministry as his life work. His health failing, he was taken to Denver, Colo., where it was hoped he might regain his health and join his parents and sister in Alberta, but he did not, and he passed away soon after arriving in Alberta.

Cared For Parents

This left Miss Young the only remaining child and cheerfully and tenderly she cared for her parents during the remainder of their lives.

Her father passed away in August, 1932, at the age of 89 years, and her mother two years later, being at the time of her death 97 years 10 months of age.

Miss Young was reared in a Christian home and has ever been an efficient and willing worker for the church and its societies. She was a charter member of the Rainy Creek Ladies' Aid, organized in October, 1906, holding the office of secretary-treasurer, and later that of president for several years. After coming to Bentley she held the office of secretary-treasurer of the Bentley Ladies' Aid for 11 consecutive years, the care of her aged parents compelling her to resign. At the time of her death she was again secretary of the organization and had been a member of the W.M.S. for many years. She was a woman of sterling character, ever ready to assist in any good cause, and was an esteemed and loved by all who knew her. Her whole life had been a sacrifice for others.

She had spent the week-end in Calgary with cousins just two weeks before her death, one of whom, Mrs. A. Skelton, came up on Thursday last and was with her from that time. Mrs. Skelton's sister, Miss Mary Young, arrived on Saturday.

Funeral services were held from the United Church on Monday morning. Rev. McLenahan officiating. The pallbearers were F. C. Nelson, H. C. Peterson, A. G. Bign, J. C. Carrick, E. F. Taylor and J. G. Brown, all old friends and neighbors.

Open Verdict Given By Jury In Dwan Accident

Find No Blame Attached to Train Crew; Eye-Witnesses Give Detailed Evidence.

Retraining a verdict of accidental deaths, a jury empanelled by Coroner Dr. E. M. Sharpe held an inquest at the Lacombe Undertaking Parlors on Monday afternoon, May 11, into the death of Lena and Arthur Dwan, victims of a railroad crossing accident at Milton School on Sunday, May 9.

Representing the C.P.R. were R. R. Mitchell of the C.P.R. Legal Department, Calgary, and E. W. Flanagan of the C.P.R. Investigating Department, Edmonton. As jurymen, P. Owen was unable to attend because of illness. J. Baldwin, who was sworn in to fill the vacancy, other jurors were L. P. Minkler, foreman; W. P. Parsons, J. Edgington, L. Douglas, Lawrence May 3rd, 1936, and W. A. Yull of Red Deer called the witnesses.

After hearing the evidence, the jury brought in the following verdict: "We, the undersigned jury, empanelled to inquire into the deaths of Lena and Arthur Dwan, having heard the evidence of witnesses, do find that the undersigned jury, empanelled to inquire into the deaths of Lena and Arthur Dwan came to their deaths as a result of a collision between the train in which they were riding and a C.P.R. extra freight train, south-bound, at a railway crossing approximately four miles northeast of Lacombe, at 7:55 p.m., on the night of Sunday, May 9th, 1936, and we find that no blame is attached to the crew of said freight train."

First Witness

Engineer W. Halliday, the first witness called, testified that he had not seen the truck at all until the moment of impact. The speed of the train was about 35 miles per hour, which travelled approximately 800 or 900 feet after hitting the truck, that he had sounded the regulation whistle at the mile board and again at the whistle post and the fireman had asked him to blow it again between the post and the crossing, which he did, and also started the bell ringing. The fireman had then called to him to stop the train and he had applied the emergency brakes. Altogether he had blown the whistle six times between the mile board and the crossing, over a distance covering about three-fourths of a mile.

The brakes of the train were tested before leaving, and were found to be working O.K. Archibald Bell, fireman, who was on the left side of the engine, stated the first saw about half way between the whistle post and the crossing, a distance of possibly 40 rods. The truck was seen at the crossing, 100 feet away, and was travelling slowly along at a speed he judged to be about 10 miles per hour. The train would be in the driver's face, but he couldn't say if it would interfere with his vision. The driver was seen to be looking at the truck, and was apparently unaware of the presence of the train.

He had expected it to stop, and when he realized that it was not going to, he had called to the engineer to apply the emergency brakes. At that time the truck was flush with the right-of-way fence, within 33 feet of the track, and the freight about 200 feet from the crossing. He believed the trees very little hindrance to his vision. The driver was thrown to the right or engineer's side of the train.

Picked Up Injured Couple

Testimony of Ted Pomelcar, brakeman, and Deer, was similar to that of the fireman. Both had shouted simultaneously to the engineer to stop the train. The truck, he thought, was travelling slow enough to be stopped within its own length at any time within 150 feet of the crossing. He said trucks and motor cars sometimes drive right up to the train before they stop.

All three testified they had gone

BANQUET TENDERED BY C.G.I.T. GROUPS

Interesting Addresses Given, In Which Higher Standards of Life Predominate

Members of the three C.G.I.T. groups were hostesses to their mothers and friends at a banquet on Saturday evening, when Miss Eva Jagoe of Calgary, a former leader of the Senior group, was the main speaker. "Looking Down the Highway of Life" was the theme which Miss Jagoe wove into her remarks on the four C.G.I.T. slogans—Cherish Health, modern girls have no time to be ill. Seek Truth, independent thinking is encouraged. Know God, higher standards will be needed in the coming years. Serve Others—in addition to her home duties, the woman of the future must serve her church and community.

A singing-speech by Elizabeth Layton, opened the program.

Greta Sandberg, president of the Senior group, occupied the chair, and Mary Jackson extended a welcome to the guests. The reply by Mrs. C. Brewer was based on the topic "Our Bodies the Foundation Stones of the New Community." Cornerstones of the home, she thought, were health, understanding and patience. There are three classes of tourists on the Highway of Life—the high-biker, who wants something for nothing; the middle class, who expect the right to a real vacation. The home life will show to which class its inmates aspire.

"The Church of the Living God—the Cornerstone of the New World," provided the subject for a splendid talk by Rev. B. B. Layton, who spoke on the changing customs, and the opportunity of the C.G.I.T. girls to make the world one in which womanhood is respected, and not one in which the standard of womanhood is lowered.

Goldie Nixon spoke on missionary work, and the efforts of the C.G.I.T. girls in the home, and the opportunity of the C.G.I.T. girls to make the world one in which womanhood is respected, and not one in which the standard of womanhood is lowered.

Leaders this year are Miss N. French of the Junior group, and Mrs. N. McLean. Mrs. Norman Pickard of Calgary was also a welcome guest.

Junior Board of Trade Banquet Big Success

Inspiring Address Is Given By Guest Speaker; Sales Tax Praised, As It Taught A Useful Lesson to Public.

Stating that "He loved the present new provincial sales tax, as it taught a useful lesson to the public, and would bring people to realize that government money was not plucked out of the skies, and those who claim the new must pay the piper" was one of the highlights in a speech delivered by John Blue, secretary of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, who was the guest speaker at the first annual banquet of the Lacombe Junior Board of Trade, held in the Church Hall on Tuesday night, which was an unqualified success from every angle.

President Jack Cram occupied the chair, welcomed, and expressed gratification at the number present, which included several ladies. He outlined the objects of the newly formed organization of Trade section already extended them by the senior Board of Trade and the Town Council.

Inspiring Speech

The guest speaker, John Blue, secretary of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, gave a most inspiring speech, containing much food for thought, and received rapt attention from the gathering. Voicing his opening remarks with several humorous stories, the speaker went on to congratulate the young men of Lacombe for their aggressive activity and initiative shown in forming a Junior Board of Trade section.

He said "they would realize in years to come the benefit to be derived through being connected with such an organization, and which they would have full scope to exercise their energy, build up executive ability and by direct action promote material prosperity, without, however, there was no progress and no happiness. Other attributes he mentioned would follow were: Personal development, forming friendships, improved citizenship, accepting responsibility, honest dealings with competitors, and ethical business practices, which communities live and thrive.

He was pleased to note the reciprocation of effort between the senior and junior bodies, and the town council, which if continued, was bound to result in success. Demonstrating their faith in the resources of your district is only a preliminary to the efforts of the people living in it. "I am satisfied," he said, "there are more honest business men in the world than ever there has been to Christianity, which still permeates civilization."

Stresses Harmony

"Pull together and work in harmony" was one of his admonitions, and he urged that in the life of the community. Interest yourselves in the problems of the nation and learn something of the world, which is the backbone of the country, and study the banking system of Canada, so that it can be discussed intelligently and convincingly.

"How many, he queried, knew that during 1921-31 Alberta was the only province to keep its people on the job in the world, and that the province, which for the first time metallic exports have exceeded the grain exports?"

"Time," he said, "is the only investment that cannot be taken away from you, so use it to the best advantage. Study the economic set-up of the country, which no doubt was hard at school, but then you were not old enough to absorb it. The sources of Dominion as well as provincial." (Continued on Back Page)

FUSION POLITICAL PARTIES IMPOSSIBLE SAYS CRITICS

EDMONTON WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

By T. K. WINDROSS

EDMONTON.—Plan for a fusion of political parties of Alberta and formation of a movement to carry on the affairs of the province was made by D. M. Douglas this week. Mr. Douglas, as leader of the provincial Conservatives, was addressing a gathering in Edmonton and Montreal, and in at least two of the legislature each session now for at least three years. He suggests a "business administration" for the purpose of putting Alberta in a better financial position.

The Conservative chief's plan received considerable favorable comment from politicians in at least two of the old-line parties, among them G. H. Van Allen, M.L.A.; L. K. Centre, K.C.; and H. R. Milner, K.C. But the plan didn't catch all the favorable comment, and it seems likely that it will be left to perish in the shuffle of the party for want of practical support.

Critics of the scheme in all political groups are saying in the capital: "It is possible, even a Conservative leader who has never been fortunate enough to hold office in the legislature would make such a proposal if he thought for a minute that there would be a chance of his getting into power within the next two years or longer." One prominent citizen remarked: "Certainly the Liberals would be the last to agree to such a plan if they thought there would be a political turnover that would give them the reins of office within a reasonable time."

Premier William Aberhart, when asked for his views, said he was "interested but not worried" about the suggestion. "The old-line parties' policies are well known to the people and the results of these policies are plain to see. It is likely that a combination of the old-line parties would have any better chance to fix things up, right?" he asked.

The sales tax is still holding a lot of attention and rumors of rebellion among the merchants are said to be time. Merchants here are said to be considering calling a meeting to discuss the tax and get clearer picture of the situation. The regulations governing its collection. The Liberal government at Ottawa having placed a similar tax, or proposed one, on the country at large, has considerably complicated matters and added to the unpopularity of the provincial sales tax. Dawson, the acting superintendent, E. M. Gunderson, declare, however, that the administration of the tax is proceeding as smoothly as can be expected.

The hearts of a number of U.S. veterans in this district, who formed the Expeditionary Force in the Great War, will be made glad shortly. IMPROVED HOG GRADING SYSTEM

Operative in Eastern Canada for some time, buying and selling of hogs on a rail graded, dressed hog basis, is rapidly gaining popularity in Alberta, the largest hog raising province in the Dominion, according to the Calgary Herald.

Introduced into the province during the past month, the system of marketing hogs has already gained favor among many who sold under the plan are returning to sell again on the same basis. In the period mentioned one packing house purchased over 2,000 hogs—and everyone was satisfied.

Approximately 10 years ago the Dominion government inaugurated the first step toward encouraging production of the proper grade animals. The government is now sponsoring the second step in an extended program by encouraging marketing on a rail graded, dressed weight basis.

The new system is exactly what the name implies. The hogs are dehorned and tattooed with a number for identification after slaughter. The live hogs are weighed as a part down payment can be made, usually 75 per cent the butcher price, after which the hogs are slaughtered and weighed individually.

A government inspector present on the killing floor of the packing plants grades the animals to government standard and the final payment is made on the basis of that grade.

No more important duty can be urged upon those who are entering the great theatre of life than simple loyalty to their best convictions.—E. H. Chapin.

Conductor Is Author Of Railroad Story

So frequent and disastrous were the landfalls in Roger's Pass on the Canadian Pacific Railway years ago that trainmen referred to this section in the Canadian Rockies as "pass to paradise" or "Jacob's Ladder." Roger's Pass was eliminated by the construction of the five-mile Connaught Tunnel.

Edmund E. Pugsley, a conductor for the British Columbia Electric Railway, has used the adventures of Roger's Pass as a background for his adventure story, "Jacob's Ladder," which appears in the current issue of Railroad Stories Magazine.

WE'RE glad to hear people praising the beautiful styling of the new Chevrolet streamlined Turret Top Bodies by Fisher. But beauty tells only half the story. Top on your new car. And that, of course, means—buy a Chevrolet. The Only Complete Low-Priced Car. For Chevrolet is the only car in its class that gives you, not only the Turret Top, but also Hydraulic Brakes—Valve-in-Head engine—Fisher No-Draft Ventilation—Safety glass in every window—and the "Knee-Action" gliding ride. Heavy Tourist Traffic Expected in Scotland

GLASGOW, Scotland.—Using last year's record travel gains, and the increased demand this year for tourist information, as a 1936 travel barometer, Scottish hotel, resort and railroad men are busy making early preparations to accommodate what they feel will be the peak year in Scotland's tourist influx.

During the past 10 years, Scotland has made rapid strides in its recreational and resort centers. With Anglo-Saxon visitors leading the list of tourists year after year, Scotland found it necessary to provide all the popular sports of that race. Typical of the fashionable resorts are such places as the Glenaeles Hotel at Perthshire, which offers popular outdoor sports, with golf, riding, fishing and tennis the leading attractions. But if the tourist prefers solitude, there is the wealth of hidden and remote valleys, or the beautiful vistas in the shadows of Scotland's steep mountains. If historical points interest, there are the settings of Scotland's romances, stately old castles, the glamor of medieval times.

Fires Follow in Wake of Southern Tornado

Broken gas mains, and electric cables caused many fires to break out amid the ruins of Gainsville, after tornado had swept through the town. At least 175 persons lost their lives in the wind storm, and 1,000 more were injured. Property damage, that was greatly increased by the fires, will probably reach $5,000,000. This picture shows a view of wreckage in Gainsville after the storm, with flames raging in damaged building in the background.

The World of Fact and Fiction

By "ART"

Have just been reading the special "Queen Mary" editions of the Glasgow "Herald" and the "Bulletin." These papers, published the day after the launching of the great ship, picture every move of the "Queen Mary" in its precarious journey down the narrow Clyde to the sea. At times it was so close to the river bank that the spectators (who came in thousands) could almost have touched the liner's plates, and there were many anxious moments as the ship stuck in the mud on several occasions before reaching open water.

There must have been a touch of sadness in the scene for many of the men who had worked on the giant liner, for few of them will ever see the boat again, as Liverpool and Southampton will now become its "home."

Just 30 years ago today, May 14, 1906, saw the capture of Bill Miner, British Columbia's own Jesse James. After robbing a train at Ducks, near Kamloops, Bill and his companions started out to escape, the police, who had been sent from Calgary to pursue them.

At Douglas Lake, 35 miles from Kamloops, Miner and his companions were surrounded several days after the hold-up and captured following a brief gun battle. Magistrate P. G. Thomas of High River, Alta., is one of the surviving members of the posse who took part in the capture of the desperadoes.

During his career Miner took part in hold-ups in the United States, a sensational escape from the penitentiary at New Westminster, B.C., and a train robbery at Mission, B.C., in addition to the hold-up at Ducks. Many times he is said to have dug deep into his "profits" to help families in dire need—whether or not this was fact or fiction I do not know, but most of British Columbia's old-timers have a kindly word for "old Bill," who has long since passed to his Maker.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
At all Christian Science Churches next Sunday, the subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Mortals and Immortals." The following is one of the Scriptural quotations contained in the Lesson-Sermon: "Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep His commandments: for this is the whole duty of man" (Ecclesiastes 12:13).

One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is as follows (page 340): "This text in the book of Ecclesiastes conveys the Christian Science thought, especially when the word duty, which is not in the original, is omitted: 'Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: fear God and keep His commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. In other words: Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: love God and keep His commandments: for this is the whole of man in his image and likeness.'"

KEEP SKIRTS IN SHAPE
To keep the backs of suit skirts in shape, turn wrong side out, place on any hard surface, cover with a heavy, dampened bath towel and allow to remain over night. Rough woolens need little or no pressing.

"It is to the universities of England and the United States and to the citizenry willing to fight for liberty that the world must look for its only hope of halting world chaos."—Nicholas Murray Butler.

Rimbey

RIMBEY.—Reorganization in the various phases of church work in the Church of the Nazarene has been underway since the recent election of officers. Miss Irene Wright is president of the Young People's Society; Miss Alma Riske, superintendent of the Sunday School, and Mrs. W. J. Lynn, president of the Women's Missionary Society. W. H. Cork, Max Vliet and W. H. Cumberland comprise the board of trustees. Rev. D. Swarth is the continuing pastor.

A wrestling match ended in a fractured arm for Marvin Page, 14, at Hoadley school, 18 miles northward of Rimbey. Marvin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Page, who farm in the Hoadley district.

Seeding will be general in this district early this week, provided the weather remains favorable during the next few days. Several farmers had 40 acres of seeding completed before the rain held them up.

Usurp Rights

Chiseling on his lady friends means nothing to the conscience of Tom, the "terrible turkey." As a resident on the farm of T. N. Wright, near Rimbey, this potential Christmas dinner insult on sitting on the eggs laid in nests by these lady friends. His persistence in this has resulted in broken eggs every time he settles himself in the role of brooder.

More Cattle Shipped

With several hundred head of the finest cattle ever seen in Alberta under the "finishing outfit" process in the Blindman Valley in this district, shipments to outside markets started recently.

Two carloads of fine animals left Rimbey early last week, shipped by the Blindman Valley Livestock Association.

Outstanding herds in the district are owned by William Surratt and Arthur Kenchiloe.

MIRACLE PLAY IS REPEATED

A large and appreciative audience greeted the miracle play, "God So Loved the World," when it was repeated by St. Cyril's Girls' Auxiliary in St. Andrew's Church last Thursday evening, May 7, under the auspices of St. Andrew's Church Choir.

The play was first presented in St. Cyril's Church on April 22, and so many requests were received for its repetition that Miss Dorothy Stevens, the president, agreed to present it again. Much of the success of the play was due to her untiring efforts.

A brief talk on the nature and history of miracle plays was given by Rev. Mr. Layton before the curtain rose.

Lacombe is fortunate in having a woman of such ability as Mrs. Henry-Lewis in directing this play. Not only in the accuracy of the children's acting but in the spirit and the fine atmosphere attained she has shown a rare appreciation of drama, and all those interested in the play wish to express their sincere appreciation of her work.

vincial revenue would also be well to study.

He said he "loved the present sales tax, as it taught a useful lesson to the public and would bring people to realize that government money was not picked out of the skies—and those who call the time must pay the piper. In every community there are people who do nothing, yet look for a lot of favors from the county."

Review Work of Other Boards
He referred to the work other Junior Boards of Trade were doing in Winnipeg, Ottawa and Toronto. That Canada was slowly but surely coming out of the depression was evident by the considerable increase in its exports and imports, which were approximately 50 per cent up over the lowest point reached during 1933. He concluded by wishing the new organization all speed and all success.

Jack Morrison moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, with a hearty response.

Scout Leader Present
N. H. Scott and J. A. Arnott, president and secretary, respectively, of the Red Deer Junior Board of Trade, both spoke and extended the best wishes of their body, which would co-operate in any way possible, and invited any members of Lacombe board to visit them at the Red Deer meetings, which would resume again in September.

President Stafford Boyd of the senior organization congratulated the members on the initiative already shown and the material help they would be in the general welfare of the town. He referred to the splendid co-operation given the senior Board of Trade by the town council, and predicted considerable community benefit would be derived from the harmonious relations that existed between the various bodies, which were all working for the same objective.

Harry Ford, on behalf of the Men's Club, commented on the splendid work already accomplished by the young men in helping with Clean-Up Week, in which they had demonstrated by work and action.

He proposed that the present enthusiasm would be maintained. It was a tribute to the aggressiveness of the town that it could boast of two Board of Trade sections, which is a large number of cities did not have, he said.

Visitors Speak
W. S. Blumhagen, Edmonton, Provincial Secretary of the Boy Scout movement in Alberta, made the suggestion that the Junior Board of Trade might interest themselves at some later date in the younger boys and possibly assist in the formation of a Boy Scout group in Lacombe, emphasizing the training given in making good citizens of the future.

Councillor T. Wilkes said he was pinch-hitting for Mayor Jones, who unfortunately was unable to attend. He congratulated the members on the improvement shown in the town through their efforts in the Clean-Up campaign sponsored by them and endorsed a Boy Scout formation here.

He said it was pleasing to him to see several members of the Junior Board of Trade attend a recent town council meeting, which showed their interest in the affairs of the town, and he hoped their attendance at future meetings could be looked for.

Dr. Henry extended the best wishes of the Bentley Board of Trade, as did B. Ramsey, vice-president of the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce.
